Vice-President Prescott F. Smith, who has been assisting the company, says a common understanding has been reached among the companies in New York city, but nothing definite has been arrived at as yet.

Poul Play Suspected.—CAIRO, ILL., March 7.—Two weeks ago George Kohl, a farm hand in the employ of Fred Whitcamp, was reported that Whitcamp had been drowned by falling into the Mississippi river. This statement was at first believed, but later suspicion led to an investigation which resulted in the arrest of Kohl, who today confessed that he assisted by Whitcamp's wife, had murdered him. The body was found buried in the rear of a stable on the premises. Mrs. Whitcamp was arrested today.

Among other things there was found between decks a mass of filth, and a dead rat, and another ship, which becoming decayed, sent forth most offensive odors when disturbed. It is further stated that the wood of the vessel itself was found badly powdered through decay, and woe is expressed that she has held together so long and so well.

The fire spread for nearly an hour, while the firemen were unable to reach or check it. About 6 o'clock it broke out in the upper story window, and a date of fire soon followed. At 6 o'clock it had turned to the second story and will be a total loss. The fire department from here and Minneapolis continue their efforts, while the goods are being rapidly removed from the lower stories. The building is three years old, and was built by Commodore W. F. Davidson at a cost of $50,000 and is insured for $45,000. It was filled with goods to the value of $250,000 and the insurance on them is $24,000.

The Situation in San Francisco.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The situation of the men who insist that to deeds of violence are their enemies, and must be avoided; that the workmen had nothing to gain by violent measures, etc. He announced that a grand plot was on foot in the city of the enemies of the workmen to precipitate a riot, in preparation for which Federal troops had been ordered to this city, the guns of the Gatling battery removed to the Central police station and a vigilance committee put on duty for active duty. There is some truth in Kearney's statements, for the Gatlings have been removed to the police station, and there is some truth in the statement that the United States forces in the vicinity of this city are being made. Guards have also been placed in some instances over the armories of the National Guards, but this action is probably a desire to be prepared for any contingency likely to occur at or before the expiration of the thirty days' notice given the matter of the condemnation of "Chinamen."

FITZ-JOHN PORTER'S CASE.

A Strong Speech in the Senate on Saturday.

The tendency of the Times—Some Anomalies Pointed Out—The Present Bill Declared Unconstitutional—The Merits of the Case—What Porter's Delay Cost—The Feeling in Wisconsin Strong.

Mr. Carpenter's Speech in the Senate.—In the Senate on Saturday, after the presentation of some petitions and the introduction of some important bills, the morning hour was occupied by Mr. Carpenter's speech on the Fitz-John Porter bill.

He started out with the proposition that the tendency of the times and in every branch of the Government was toward consolidation and centralization of power, and that the bill before the Senate was a step in that direction. He declared that the Government was equally strong to rest all power in Congress. For years the Agricultural Department had been supported at the expense of the people without constitutional authority. They had recently another scheme had been invented in the way of encroachment upon the prerogatives of the States. A bill had been introduced by a Republican and by a Democratic Senator, Messrs. Windom and Davenport, to establish a Department of Agriculture, Mining and Manufactures, for which he could find no constitutional warrant. He pointed out that the bill was a step in that direction.

He also visited the Portuguese colony at Macao. The case of Chung Hoo, late Ambassador to Russia, has been impeached by the Grand Secretaries Li and Tso. It is doubtful whether he will escape with his life. The Kaitia court with Russia has been attacked through him and perhaps the agreement will be repudiated.
